Staircases

Transform your space with elegance and functionality. At Atlatis Joinery, we specialize in custom-designed staircases, from sleek straight stairs to intricate spiral and curved designs. Whether you're looking for a modern cantilever, an efficient L-shaped, or a classic U-shaped staircase, we craft each piece with precision and care. Elevate your home with a staircase that's as beautiful as it is functional.

Spiral Stairs:

These are compact and elegant, winding around a central pole. They are perfect for saving space while maintaining an aesthetic appeal, though they can be less comfortable for regular use.

Curved Stairs:

These stairs follow a smooth, sweeping curve rather than sharp angles. They offer a luxurious and graceful look but can be more challenging to design and build.

Cantilever Stairs:

This design features treads that are supported at only one end, giving the appearance that they are floating. These stairs have a modern and minimalist aesthetic and can be quite striking in contemporary interiors.

Straight Stairs:

These are the most common and straightforward staircase design. They run in a single direction without any turns or landings, making them space-efficient.

L-shaped Stairs:

These stairs change direction by 90 degrees, typically with a landing in the middle. They're great for fitting into corners and creating a more interesting design.

U-shaped Stairs:

These stairs have two 90-degree turns, forming a "U" shape. They offer a stylish design and can be safer for high-rise applications.

Winder Stairs:

A type of staircase that turns without a landing, using wedge-shaped treads to allow for a gradual change in direction. These can be useful in tight spaces where a landing wouldn't fit.
